- Icon Edition- Icon Edition has the most grip of our plastics, even in rainy conditions. Icon plastic also offers the fastest flight of our plastics. It is also extremely durable, allowing for confidence in every throw. Icon plastic is slightly more rigid than Pinnacle, but maintains its stability in the wind as well. Available in a large assortment of colors.
- Pinnacle Edition- Pinnacle Edition is very durable. Higher speed of flight than our Protégé or Excel plastics. Pinnacle plastic has a slightly softer feel and maintains its stability in the wind. Available in a large assortment of colors.
- Protégé Edition- Protégé Edition is also a great buy for a low cost. Great for beginners or the experienced professional. Protégé Edition is rigid and has a great grip.
- Gravity Line- Gravity Line is a soft version of the Protégé. It has a tacky feel for grip. It is flexible to absorb the impact of the chains. Great for beginners or experienced professionals.
- Excel Edition- Excel Edition is a great buy at low cost. Great for beginners or the experienced professional. Excel Edition is available in a large assortment of colors.

Flight Chart System

SPEED - The speed is the ability in which the disc flies through the air and holds its velocity. The discs with the higher number in speed have a greater distance.

GLIDE - The disc's ability to stay aloft while penetrating forward. The discs with the higher number in glide will carry further for more distance.

TURN - The tendency of the disc to turn toward the direction of the spin. The greater the negative number, the more the turn.

FADE - The amount of hook a disc has as it loses its momentum at the end of its flight countering the direction of the spin. A disc that is rated closer to 0 would be a better choice for beginning players.

The Flight Chart is based on individual arm speed and distance. Each flight path describes a right handed backhand throw.
